Insights by Sage

Opta Facts

- Ireland won the Guinness Men's Six Nations for the sixth time since Italy joined the Championship, drawing level with France and Wales (6 each) and just one behind England (7) who have won it the most since 2000. This is the second time Ireland have won back-to-back editions of the Six Nations, after 2014 and 2015.
- Ireland recorded a run of 11 straight victories in the Guinness Men's Six Nations, before defeat to England in Round 4; it was the joint longest winning run by any team in the history of the Championship (incl. Home/Five Nations), equaling England's run of 11 victories between 2015 and 2017.
- France finished second in this year's Guinness Men's Six Nations, their fifth top-two finish in a row, their longest such run in the Six Nations era, overtaking a run of four between 2004 and 2007 – only England (7 between 2011 and 2017) have recorded a longer such run in the Championship.
- England trailed at halftime in each of their five matches in this year's Guinness Men's Six Nations, the first time they've trailed at the break in every match of a campaign since the 1974 Five Nations. However, they won three of those matches, no side has ever won as many fixtures in which they trailed at halftime in an edition of the Championship.
- Scotland and England both saw all five of their matches decided by single figure margins, only twice previously had a team seen each of their fixtures decided by such a margin in an edition of the Guinness Men's Six Nations (Scotland in 2010, Ireland in 2013).
- After losing their opening two games, Italy went unbeaten for the remainder of the Championship (W2 D1), the first time they have gone three games unbeaten in the Guinness Men's Six Nations. The Azzurri avoided the Wooden Spoon for the first time since 2015.
- Wales picked up just their second Wooden Spoon in the Guinness Men's Six Nations, after collecting the unwanted accolade in 2003, with Italy avoiding it for the first time since 2015. Wales have lost each of their last seven matches in the Championship, their longest ever such run (incl. Five Nations).
- 10 matches in this year's Guinness Men's Six Nations were decided by just four points or fewer - no edition of the Championship (incl. Home/Five Nations) has seen more than seven games decided by such a margin; the last time at least two thirds of games were decided by four points or fewer was 1979 (70%, 7/10).
- Tommy Reffell (Wales) won 11 turnovers, the joint most by any player in an edition of the Guinness Men's Six Nations, alongside John Barclay who won 11 turnovers for Scotland in 2011.

- Wales' Dafydd Jenkins became the youngest player to captain any team in the Guinness Men's Six Nations; he was 21 years and 60 days old when he led his nation out against Scotland in Round 1, over two years younger than Sam Warburton who previously held the record (23y 123d v Ireland in 2012).
- Dan Sheehan (Ireland) and Duhan van der Merwe finished the Championship as joint top try scorers (5 each), Sheehan is the first forward to score as many as five tries in an edition of the Championship, while van der Merwe's tally was the joint most by a Scotland player in a campaign, along with the five he scored in 2021.
- France's Thomas Ramos was the top point scorer for the second year in a row in the Guinness Men's Six Nations (63 in 2024, 84 in 2023), only three other players have scored 60+ points for Les Bleus in an edition of the Championship (Gerald Merceron - 80 in 2002, Camille Lopez - 67 in 2017, Morgan Parra - 61 in 2010).
- Ben Earl (England) made the most carries (73) of any player in the Guinness Men's Six Nations this year and beat the most defenders of any forward (24) – Billy Vunipola is the only forward from any nation to make more in a single campaign (25 in 2016).
- Damian Penaud (France) beat the most defenders of any player overall this year (27), only two men have beaten more in an edition of the Guinness Men's Six Nations (Duhan van der Merwe – 35 in 2023 & 31 in 2021, Brian O'Driscoll – 30 in 2000). The France winger also made the most line breaks of any player (11).
- Italy's Michele Lamaro made 103 tackles in the Guinness Men's Six Nations this year, the most of any player; in fact, it was the most by any player in an edition of the Championship, surpassing Jonny Gray's tally of 100 in 2018.
