2024 GUINNESS WOMEN'S SIX NATIONS

OPTA FACTS

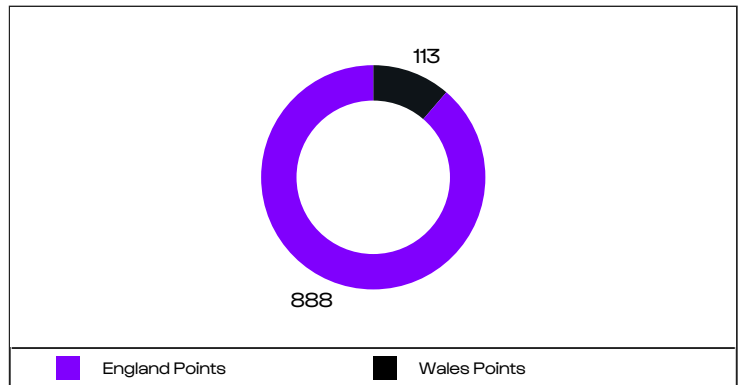

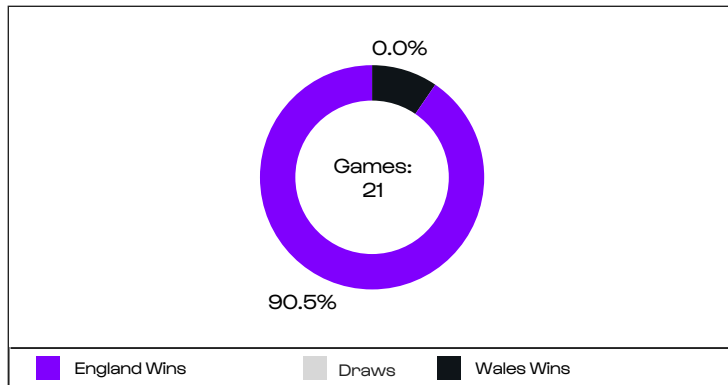

- England have won 25 of their previous 27 Guinness Women's Six Nations matches against Wales (L2, incl. Home/Five Nations), including each of their last seven by an average margin of 47 points; England have restricted Wales to just seven points scored or fewer in seven of their last eight home Championship meetings, including four shutouts.
- England have won each of their last 25 games in the Guinness Women's Six Nations, the longest winning run by any team in the history of the men's or women's Championships – England have restricted their opponents to just seven points scored or fewer in 15 of their last 18 games in the Championship, including seven shutouts.
- England have won 40 of their 42 Guinness Women's Six Nations home matches since Italy joined the Championship in 2007 (L2, both to France), including each of their last 19 by an average margin of 37 points.
- Wales have won three of their six Guinness Women's Six Nations games since the start of 2023 (L3) – they lost their opening game this year by a margin of just two points (18-20 v Scotland), however, they have won each of their last two Round 2 fixtures in the Championship.
- Wales have alternated between victory and defeat across their last six Guinness Women's Six Nations away games (W3 L3), winning their most recent away match by a margin of 26 points (36-10 v Italy in 2023), their largest away win in the Championship since 2015 (39-3 v Scotland).
- England made more line breaks (7) and beat more defenders (30) than any other side across the opening round of this year's Guinness Women's Six Nations – the Red Roses also had the highest dominant carry (54%) and tackle evasion (25%) rates of any team last weekend.
- England conceded just six penalties against Italy last weekend, the fewest of any side across the opening round of this year's Guinness Women's Six Nations, however, they were one of just three sides to be shown a yellow card and the only one to be shown a red, while Wales were one of three sides not to receive a card of any colour last weekend.
- Wales were the only team to win 90%+ of their own lineouts in the opening round of this year's Guinness Women's Six Nations (91%) and one of two teams to steal multiple opposition lineouts (2), alongside England (3), who themselves were one of just two teams with a 100% success rate on their own scrums last weekend (6/6, also France).
- England's Ellie Kildunne was the only player to score two tries in the opening round of this year's Guinness Women's Six Nations – she was also one of just five players to make a round-high two line breaks and one of two to beat a round-high seven defenders, alongside teammate Helena Rowland.
- Wales duo Alex Callender and Bethan Lewis ranked joint-third for tackles made in the opening round of this year's Guinness Women's Six Nations (19 each) and were also two of just four players to win multiple jackal turnovers last weekend (2 each).
