FRANCE vs ENGLAND

2024 GUINNESS WOMEN'S SIX NATIONS

OPTA FACTS

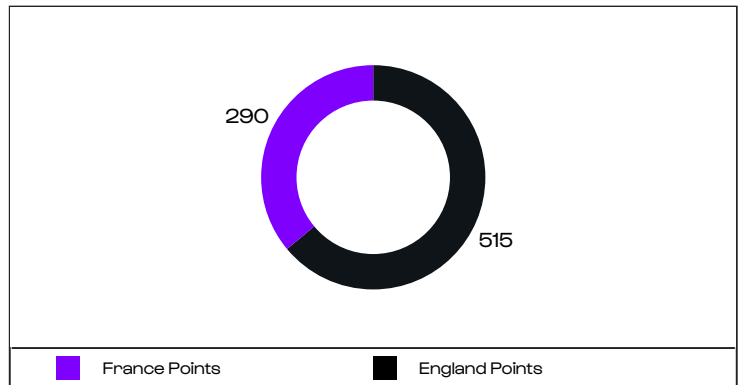

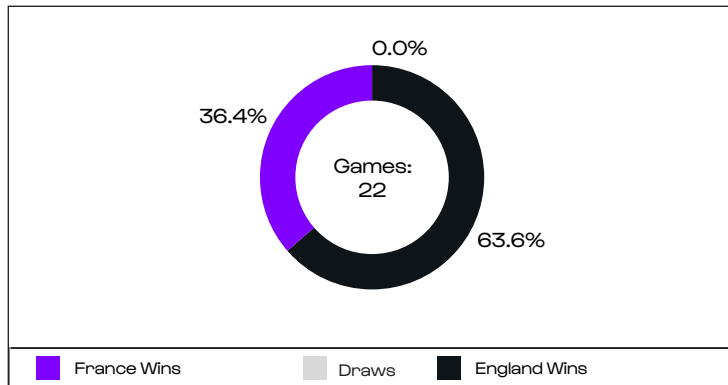

- England have won each of their last five Guinness Women's Six Nations matches against France, however, three of their five wins came by margins of just six points or fewer; this will be the third year in a row that these sides have met in the final round of the Championship with the Grand Slam on the line for both teams, while they also met in the final of the 2021 edition.
- France have lost just three of their last 20 Guinness Women's Six Nations matches (W16 D1), including all four of their games in this year's Championship by double-digit margins, however, all three of their defeats during that period have come against England.
- France have won 37 of their 42 Guinness Women's Six Nations home games since Italy joined the Championship in 2007 (L5), however, all five of their losses during that period have come against England; France have won one (2016) and lost two (2010, 2022) of their previous three matches when hosting the Red Roses in Round 5.
- England have won each of their last 28 Guinness Women's Six Nations matches, the longest run by any team in the men's or women's editions of the Championship – each of the Red Roses' four wins this year have come by margins of 36+ points.
- England have won each of their last 13 Guinness Women's Six Nations away matches by an average margin of 46 points and have held their opponents scoreless in each of their last three away games in the Championship.
- England have recorded more carry metres (4251), made more line breaks (57) and beaten more defenders (163) than any other side in this year's Guinness Women's Six Nations – in fact, the Red Roses' tally of 1549 metres carried, 24 line breaks and 63 defenders beaten last time out against Ireland all represent the highest tallies by any side in a Championship game this decade.
- France are the only team to have maintained a 100% scrum success rate in the 2024 Guinness Women's Six Nations (24/24), while England have the Championship's highest lineout success rate (84%) and have also stolen more opposition lineouts than any other side this year (12).
- England have averaged a greater share of both possession (57%) and territory (62%) per game than any other side in the 2024 Guinness Women's Six Nations – France have recorded the second best territory average of any side (57%), however, only Italy (46%) have had less possession than Les Bleues (48%).
- France's Charlotte Escudero has been successful from 59 of her 60 tackle attempts in the 2024 Guinness Women's Six Nations, with her 98.3% success rate being the highest among the 60 players to have attempted 30+ tackles in this year's Championship.
- England duo Abby Dow and Ellie Kildunne each scored three tries against Ireland during England's most recent Guinness Women's Six Nations match, the only hat-tricks scored in this year's Championship – Kildunne also carried for 351 metres, beat 17 defenders and made six line breaks against Ireland, all the highest tallies by any player in the Championship this decade.
